

American Masters:

Bernstein, Copland, Gershwin

An Afternoon at Ravinia Sponsored by B'nai Tikvah Empty Nesters

Sunday, July 11, 2010

$10 lawn admission (payable at the park)

$3 each for dessert (pay in advance)

Park opens 3:00pm; concert begins at 5:00pm

Twenty years ago, America lost not one but two of its musical legends-- Leonard Bernstein and Aaron Copland--leaving a void in the classical music world that has yet to be filled. Ravinia celebrates the memory of three of America's favorite Jewish composer/conductors in a program that features three quintessentially American masterpieces: Bernstein's "Symphony No 2," Copland's "Appalachian Spring," and Gershwin's "Concerto in F."

Join your B'nai Tikvah Empty Nester friends for an afternoon of camaraderie and music. You bring chairs or a blanket (or rent chairs in the park) and a dairy lunch; we'll provide desserts. We'll be on the Great Lawn west of the Carousel Market and north of the Pavillion. Check at www.ravinia.org or call 847-266-5100 for driving directions, parking, shuttles, chair rental, or other Ravinia information. We can help arrange car pools.
