Rabbi Alex Felch

Dear Friend:

For about 2000 years, the synagogue has been the center of Jewish life. The synagogue has been the place where our people would gather for inspiration, for learning and for friendships. It has been the center of Jewish life at a time where there was no physical home for our people.

From Israel to Europe, from Africa to the Americas, from the Caribbean to Oceania, our people wandered, trying to establish roots, carrying a Torah scroll and a prayer book with them. Assembling a quorum of ten adults to form a minyan, they would pause from their journey. Putting down their few physical belongings, they would get together to pray, to study, and maybe just to schmooze as they enjoyed each other's company. They did not have much. But they had their synagogue, their most treasured possession, and they kept it against all odds, making it flourish.

We as a people are "alive and kicking" thanks to the synagogue. The synagogue as such has survived because it contains within itself several meanings and functions.

It is a Beit Tefilah, a House of Prayer, where we try to communicate with the Almighty in a participatory mood, open to all, in a creative and unpretentious atmosphere.

It is a Beit Midrash, a House of Study where we come to learn Torah, God's word, as we try to improve our beings. It is a place where teaching is both formal and informal, where everybody strives to be a teacher and nobody ever ceases to be a student.

It is a Beit Knesset, a House of Assembly, a heimish place where we try to reach out to one another, stressing our concern for Kial Yisrael with people, our people. It is a house that is inclusive, where there is a spirit of sharing and total openness, a place of warmth and caring, truly a "home away from home."

B'nai Tikvah expresses those ideals of Judaism. B'nai Tikvah is the paradigm of that ideal synagogue, where all venues, i.e., prayer, Torah and Kial Yisrael, are available to everyone.

B'nai Tikvah epitomizes a place where everybody is welcome; a place for the old and also for the young; a place for singles and also for couples; a place for those who want to pray and also a place for those who want to study; a place where people can talk to God and also a place where people can talk to each other; a place in which we can happily celebrate the pride of our Jewish lives and also a soothing place when we are in need of comfort and support; a place where we can be inspired and moved to action, as we strive to help the most needy; and a Jewish home in which we will keep aglow the eternal light that our people received at Sinai and that after 3200 years remains with us at B'nai Tikvah.

I hope this membership packet will serve as a key - the one that will allow us to open the doors of this beautiful and warm home known as B'nai Tikvah. May it be the beginning of an ongoing renewed and creative Jewish life.

I look forward to meeting you and, hopefully, welcoming you to B'nai Tikvah.

B'Shalom .

Rabbi Alex. Felch

Dear Prospective Member:

Thank you for your interest in becoming a part of the Congregation B'nai Tikvah family.

We encourage you to join us for Shabbat services on Friday evenings or Saturday mornings, and to take the opportunity to meet Rabbi Alex Felch, Hazzan Hery Chulef, Felicia Lev, Executive Director, Matthew Travers Youth Director, our staff, and members of the Congregation.

In addition to our worship services and Festival celebrations, we sponsor a vital education program for children beginning at the primary level through post B'nai Mitzvah classes. We also have an active Youth Group and we offer Makor, Kadima, USY, and youth programs for our third grade through high school youth.

Additionally, we house the B'nai Tikvah Board of Jewish Education Early Childhood Center.

Many members participate in our Continuing Jewish Education programs ranging from Hebrew and Torah studies to contemporary issues in Jewish life. We also have an active Sisterhood, Men's Club, and Social Action Committee.

We know you will find that membership in Congregation B'nai Tikvah will enhance your Jewish identity and fulfill your spiritual, cultural and social needs. We welcome the opportunity to discuss any aspect of Synagogue life with you and your family. As you consider membership, please call the Synagogue office to make an appointment with Rabbi Alex, who looks forward to meeting you and welcoming you to our Synagogue.

Please feel free to call the Synagogue office if you have any questions. We look forward to meeting you soon.

We welcome you to B'nai Tikvah!

CONGREGATION B'NAI TIKVAH

OUR HISTORY - OUR HOPE

In the summer of 1976 twenty young Deerfield families, seeking to form a close-knit Jewish community, to find spiritual expression for themselves and a Jewish education for their children, founded Congregation B'nai Tikvah, Children of Hope.

This tri-part aspiration reflected our people's ancient understanding of such an institution: namely, a bet tefillah, a house of prayer; a bet midrash, a house of study; and a bet kneset, a house of assembly.

OUR GROWTH

Over the years, our Congregation has gained an enviable reputation for excellence in each of these sacred strivings. Our Shabbat, Festival and weekday family services are characterized by a warm spirituality and an informal dignity, celebrated by exuberant congregational participation.

EDUCATION: OUR YOUTH

Our Religious School, offering programs from kindergarten through high school, has been acknowledged as among the most progressive and effective in the Chicago metropolitan community. The B'nai Tikvah/Board of Jewish Education Early Childhood Center program has earned universal acclaim, and our innovative Bar/Bat Mitzvah program has earned a nationwide reputation for its excellence.

Our youth enjoy exciting activities and fellowship within our USY, Kadima and Makor programs. Our post B'nai Mitzvah students serve as Junior Tutors in our Bar/Bat Mitzvah programs and participate fully in our religious services.

ADULTS: EDUCATION AND FELLOWSHIP

Congregation B'nai Tikvah's award-winning Continuing Jewish Education Program offers a wide range of courses for individual or group learning as well as a number of guest speakers through a series of scholar-in-residence programs.

Reflecting the diversity of our activities, Congregation B'nai Tikvah prides itself in the exciting programming of our Sisterhood as well as the Chavurah programs of our young families, single adults, empty nesters and seniors.

OUR B'NAI TIKVAH FAMILY

Whether for religious services, study or fellowship, our gatherings reflect the warmth and joy of a true congregational family. This welcoming spirit is palpable from-the moment one enters our administrative offices and our beautiful Synagogue lobby. We welcome you.
